WHAT WE HAVE BEEN DOING

- We have begun work to ensure that data ethics are embedded at all levels of the government analytics workforce, through improvements in training and professional development for data analysts and decision makers.
- We have consulted with New Zealanders and civil society on a draft Algorithm Charter that enables government agencies to make a specific public commitment to the transparent and accountable use of algorithms and other advanced data analytics techniques. Information was made available via a media release from the Minister of Statistics and shared on data.govt.nz.

- Following these activities, we anticipate being able to update this commitment (and its milestones) to reflect progress made.

HOW WE ARE INCLUDING DIVERSE VOICES

HOW WE ARE KEEPING DIVERSE COMMUNITIES INFORMED

WHAT'S NEXT?

- We will provide advice to Ministers about developing government's response to the algorithm assessment report.
